HAWTHORN OUT OF DERBY

GELDING'S TEMPERATURE GOES TO 103 AND HIS WITHDRAWAL FOLLOWS.

Plans for His Shipment to Louisville on Sunday Are Abandoned and He Will Remain at Lexington Until Condition Justify His Transfer.

Louisville, Ky., May 3.—C. F. Buschmeyer today reluctantly authorized the statement that his Hastings—White Thorn gelding, Hawthorn, would not be a starter in the Kentucky Derby next Saturday. Mr. Buschmeyer regretted the necessity for this announcement, not only on his own account, but because Hawthorn had ruled a strong favorite in the future looking that has been going on for the race for several months past. Hawthorn was in perfect physical condition when he left here last week to fill his engagement in the Blue Grass Stakes at Lexington and, although for several days he gave evidence of indisposition, it was not until last night that his trainer would concede that his sickness was sufficiently serious to keep him from going to the post for the Derby. His condition rapidly grew worse last night and his temperature arose at such an alarming rate that the plans which had been made for his transfer here from Lexington on Sunday were abandoned. He will not be returned here until his condition has improved enough to justify it. Hawthorn had a temperature of 103 yesterday and was pronounced an exceedingly sick horse. The veterinarian who is in attendance pronounces it a case of distemper. The withdrawal of Hawthorn has had the effect of making A. L. Astor's Ten Point a stronger favorite than ever for the Derby. His odds have been reduced to 8 to 5.

Prince Hernis, Lew Marion's Kentucky Derby eligible, worked a mile and an eighth this morning in 1:57, pulled up. The fractions were: 12 3/4, 24 1/2, 36 1/2, 48 1/2, 1:16, 1:29 1/2, 1:42 1/2. He had up more than his Derby weight and finished fast. The last seven furlongs, Sam Hirsch cut in with him and finished the trial. Sam Hirsch is also a Derby eligible, but in the final quarter Prince Hernis cut him out.

The Kentucky Handicap candidate, Buckhorn, in the Mackenzie stable, figured in a fast work-out at the Downs today. With jockey Taplin in the saddle, Buckhorn worked a mile in 1:40 1/2, pulled up. The fractions were: 12 3/4, 24 1/2, 36 1/2, 48 1/2, 1:01 1/2, 1:12 1/2, 1:27 1/2. The work was most impressive and has not been surpassed by any of the older horses in training this spring at either of the local courses. Buckhorn cooled out in grand shape and the sensational trial seemed to have no effect upon him. Other work-outs were as follows:

Alfred V.—Three-quarters in 1:17 1/2.

Captain Heck—Five-eighths in 1:04; half mile in 31 1/2.

Chapultepec—Three-quarters in 1:15 1/2.

Coy—Three-quarters in 1:18.

First Degree—Half mile in 50.

George Oxenard—Three-quarters in 1:21 1/2.

Hanly—Five-eighths in 1:07.

Helen Barbee—Five-eighths in 1:03.

Irish Gentleman—Mile in 1:48, breezing.

Kenneth D.—Three-quarters in 1:17 1/2.

Lampet—Mile in 1:45 1/2.

Maid of Norfolk—Three-eighths in 39 1/2.

Melton Street—Mile in 1:45. Fractions: 12 3/4, 25 1/2, 38 1/2, 50 1/2, 1:18, 1:30 1/2.

Royal Tea—Five-eighths in 1:04.

Manager John Haschmeister, of Douglas Park, received today a request for reservations from Phil Hyams for ten stalls. He is coming Sunday from Havre de Grace with Granite, Dorion, Mary Ann K., Royal Meteor and others.

Secretary E. W. Maginn arrived today at Douglas Park to begin preparations for programming the Douglas Park meeting. Manager Haschmeister is busy with many elaborate improvements at the plant.

His Majesty, J. W. Messervy's good three-year-old, is gradually recovering from his recent illness.

News reached here today that M. R. Greiner, a local turfman, had purchased an offer of $10,000 for his unbeaten two-year-old Little Nephew, which defeated Old Rosbud in the Idle Hour Stakes at Lexington.

The withdrawal of the winter favorite, Hawthorn, from the Kentucky Derby recalls a similar instance in 1910, when Waldo, the winter favorite for the event, was stricken out of the race. The Sunday before the 1910 Derby was run Waldo worked a sensational trial at the local track, covering the Derby distance in 2:07 1/2.

In this work he pulled up lame and was not again used until he was a four-year-old. Waldo had been liberally backed in the future books, as has Hawthorn. That the absence of even a great horse cannot seriously affect a race like the Derby was demonstrated in 1910, for it was a glorious contest between Donau, Joe Morris, Fighting Job and Bolla Bolla, with the result in doubt until the finishing line was passed.

C. F. Buschmeyer, Hawthorn's owner, did not decide on Hawthorn's withdrawal from the Derby until Friday midnight. Mr. Buschmeyer at the time hoped that the great gelding would rally sufficiently to warrant a resumption of training. Upon learning that Hawthorn's temperature was 103 and, acting upon the advice of a veterinarian, that Hawthorn was too sick to justify starting him in the Derby, Mr. Buschmeyer made the announcement. That Hawthorn cannot be raced is the greatest disappointment of his turf career. He says that the fact that Hawthorn won the Kentucky Derby would be a great thing, but the situation all the more interesting, as at no time has he wavered in the belief that Hawthorn could defeat Ten Point or any other three-year-old. Today 125 pounds of anti-phlogestine was shipped to Lexington to be used in restoring Hawthorn to normal condition.

Col. M. J. Winn and Judge C. F. Price have returned from abroad after a sojourn of one month. They enjoyed every moment of the voyage and the sights in London, Paris, Belgium, also the race courses there. The purpose of their trip was recreation, combined with an inspection of the methods employed at the courses in conducting the speculative departments.

J. R. Wainwright was at Churchill Downs for the first time since Derby day last spring. The owner of High Private has been fishing and hunting in the far west for months and his health was never more robust. High Private is now going along in his work and showing little signs of his recent muscular ailment. His trainer, Al Luzader, is confident that he will send the veteran to the post in the Kentucky Handicap. He has hopes of also being able to race him in a preliminary trial for the big Douglas Park race during the meeting at Churchill Downs. He fears he cannot get him ready for the Secretary E. W. Maginn, of the Douglas Park, Latonia and Fort Erie racing associations, is due here to prepare his program of overnight purses and handicaps for the spring meeting at Douglas Park.

J. R. Wainwright has secured a contract on the apprentice rider, E. Wingfield, a brother to J. Wingfield. This boy has never ridden in a race as yet, but trainer Luzader, who has the Wainwright string in charge, thinks he is a promising prospect. He can ride now at seventy-five pounds.

Weber & Ward have in Stucco a promising two-year-old in training at Douglas Park. The youngster is by Filigrane, out of My Eleanor, dam of H.

BRILLIANT KENTUCKY DERBY IN PROSPECT

Great Race Assured for Next Saturday at Churchill Downs Despite the Withdrawal of Hawthorn and Helios

If the weather be propitious it may be expected that the thirty-ninth running of the historic Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, Louisville, next Saturday afternoon, will be witnessed by the greatest, as well as the most fashionable, gathering of people ever seen on a Kentucky race course. The beauty and the chivalry of the old Kentucky commonwealth, together with notable visitors from afar as well as nearby states, will be there to pay homage to the thoroughbred and lend their approval to the greatest of all outdoor sports. The winners will be admired and applauded with an enthusiasm born of that genuine love for the horse that is an inherent trait of the Kentuckian. Nor will the vanquished be overlooked when the plaudits of the multitude are being freely bestowed upon the victor, for the Kentuckian is proverbially generous in recognizing a meritorious performance, even though it falls short of being successful.

It is characteristic of the New Louisville Jockey Club, which has been the scene of countless assemblages of the elite of the Southland dating from the day when Aristides dashed first under the wire as the inaugural Derby victor, will be radiant in kaleidoscopic color, as will the grandstand, with flags fluttering from every point of vantage and with the lawns and bright flowers adding to the splendor of the scene. It is characteristic of the Kentuckian that on that occasion all classes pay homage to the thoroughbred horse. They come from cabin and palace. They walk and they even ride to the big free infield in coal carts. Buzzer motors carry no happier, care-free admirers of the turf than those individuals who journey to South Louisville in the commonest kind of a vehicle and then perch themselves high in the air or crowd the inside rail, content to stand for hours in sunshine or rain, waiting for the Derby field to go to the post.

In that vast throng, jostling with the younger generation, will be found the racegoer of ante-bellum days, who, unaffected by the changing times and conditions, will proudly recall the year in which the great Commoner, Henry Clay, and Vice-President of the United States, J. C. Breckenridge, stood in the judges' stand of a Kentucky race track, and who will maintain that these illustrious Kentuckians, were they alive now, would be spectators of the Derby. The brilliant racing that Kentucky will provide this season would have especially appealed to President Ulysses S. Grant, who, while serving as the nation's chief executive, delighted in journeying to Pimlico to attend the races.

It has been assured for months that the Kentucky racing of this season would be of surpassing brilliancy. Lexington has started the sport auspiciously and the Louisville opening on Saturday next bids fair to set a standard that it will be difficult to surpass in future years. The cream of American thoroughbred horses are scheduled to meet in contest for stakes and purses that will be well worth winning, for their intrinsic value alone, to say nothing of the associations and fame that go with the winning of such a race as the Kentucky Derby, with its wealth of tradition and sentiment.

Thirty-two three-year-olds are eligible to start in the Kentucky Derby, but when the real candidates line up at the post next Saturday it is doubtful if more than a dozen will face the starter. However, the owners of fifteen have more or less definitely declared their representatives will start and they may. Some owners enjoy the pleasure of having a starter in an event of such importance, even though cherishing no lively anticipation of seeing it come sweeping home in triumph. Therefore some particulars in regard to the fifteen that can furnish a grand contest worth a long journey to view. The eight are Ten Point, Foundation, Leochares, His Majesty, Yankee Notions, Buskin, Frederick L. and Floral Park, a splendid band entitled by reason of superior racing exploits to contend for the highest honors of the turf anywhere. If Helios had trained favorably this spring, he would have been second to none in public estimation, but unluckily he has not and his capable trainer has said he would not be a starter, hence he is left out of Derby calculations.

It likewise is to be deplored that Hawthorn, the winter favorite for the race, is to be an absentee. He has trained well for his Derby engagement up to the time of being shipped to Lexington for the Blue Grass Stakes and his forced withdrawal from the race has been a source of great disappointment to his sportsmanlike owner, who had cherished high hopes that his handily ambitious and fast win of the 1910 event of Kentucky racing was to be realized. Hawthorn won his only start of the season at Lexington over opposition that was not sufficiently formidable to afford much of a line as to his real ability as a good judge who watched his training this spring inclined to the belief that he would turn out to be the three-year-old champion of 1913. It is to be hoped that his indisposition will be of such a temporary character that he may be able to fill his Latonia Derby engagement, at least, and thereby settle the question of supremacy that will be left undecided by his absence from next Saturday's big race.

Ten Point has done more and better racing this year than any of the candidates and has won three races in high-class style against fast horses of his own age and older. In the Susquehanna Handicap, at a mile and seventy yards, Thursday, he gave from eight to twenty-six pounds by the scale of weight for age and, carrying 117 pounds, defeated such opponents as Buskin, John Furlong, Adams Express, Lochiel, Flabber and Mission and ran the last mile in 1:28 1/2. As he carried his Derby weight that race was really a remarkable public Derby trial, and it is obvious that any horse able to beat Tony Astor's candidate will have to do more than average Derby racing.

Foundation won some good races as a two-year-old, but did not class with the best of his age. This spring he on several occasions fairly astonished the Lexington turfmen in some amazingly fast public trials, showing himself to be an improved colt. Quite certain it is that if he runs to the form of those trials on Derby day he is likely to be the winner of the big race of next Saturday. Winner of eleven races last year, of which seven were taken in succession, he was absolutely in the first rank of 1912 two-year-olds. In winning the Grey Stakes at Toronto he ran a mile in 1:40 1/2, with 115 pounds up, so there should be no trouble about his staying the Derby route, that is, the Kentucky Derby route, which is not a his merits. He is in a dangerous stable and in a race noted for surprises, might prove a surprise on his merits.

Yankee Notions ran some corking good races last year and won eight out of seventeen in which he took part. He belongs to one of the most estimable gentlemen connected with racing and is good enough to run for any man's money.

Frederick L. was the two-year-old star of H. C. Hallenbeck's stable last year and a young horse of great speed and a fine weight carrier. He started in fifteen races and won six of them. He won the Wilmington Stakes at the recent Havre de Grace meeting, with 120 pounds up, and, carrying 111, ran third to Ten Point, 108, and Buskin, 103, in the Belair Handicap, having had luck in the race and finishing in front of the crack sprinter, Cough Hill. These races make him out to be in good form. With Musgrave on his back he will be capable of doing his best.

His Majesty was not raced much as a two-year-old and won two races. His last race of the year gave a glimpse of form suggestive of great things to come, if normal development attended his transition from two years of age to three. This was when he defeated Lahore, Sebago, White Wolf, Rostertum, Carlton C., Lochiel and Hilarious in the Exchange Handicap of a mile and a sixteenth at the Jamestown fall meeting, running the distance in 1:45 1/2 over a heavy track and winning from Lahore by four lengths. He carried 102 pounds to 119 on Lahore and by the scale of weight for age was giving the latter good horse eighteen pounds, a performance that will bear searching analysis. He is said to have grown into one of the grandest appearing young horses imaginable.

Buskin is a going young colt, bred at H. P. Whitney's Brookdale Stud. He started in thirteen races last year and won four. He was at his best in the fall and won his last three races in a row. He is a fast horse and a game one. That he wintered well and improved is established by his two races at Havre de Grace, in both of which he finished second to Ten Point, with capital race horses behind him. In his last race, the Susquehanna Handicap, at a mile and seventy yards, he ran Ten Point to a half length, but was in front of fifteen pounds. While Ten Point beat him twice, he finished in front of such horses as John Furlong, Adams Express, Lochiel, Mission, Flabber, Frederick L., Cough Hill and Grover Hughes, excellent form for so early in the year.

No filly has won the Kentucky Derby, mainly because few have started in it. Twice in recent years a filly has won the Epsom Derby and there is no reason why a high-class filly could not win the Kentucky Derby. It has been given out that Floral Park will certainly start this year. This daughter of Burgomaster is gifted with great speed and last year won seven races and was six times second in seventeen starts. At Salt Lake City she ran four and a half furlongs in 52 1/2, which is the record for the distance. In the fall at Louisville she won twice at three-quarters of a mile in 1:12 1/2 and was beaten a head by The Widow Moon in the same time. What her chances may be in competition with the colts and geldings is a problem that only the race can solve. The instances cited demonstrate that in native speed, at least, she is able to hold her own with any of them. If she starts it will be an interesting feature of the race.

Gowell is another good filly that may start. She won the Ashland Oaks a few days ago over a heavy track and is a fine young mare that won seven races in a strenuous campaign as a two-year-old. Her defeat of The Widow Moon in the Ashland Oaks shows her to be in good form.

It is something in the way of an equine tragedy that the two great rivals of last year and winter and spring favorites for the event, Helios and Hawthorn, should now prove unable to go to the post. When Helios won the Cincinnati Trophy at Latonia last June he was in perfect racing condition, yet his owner at once ordered him into honorable retirement, with the sole purpose of giving him a long rest in the hope it would lead to his winning the Kentucky Derby of 1913.

FOUNDATION MAKES GOOD

McKENNA CANDIDATE FOR KENTUCKY DERBY RUNS A SPARKLING RACE.

Comes Within a Fraction of Equaling the Track Record in Winning Blue Grass Stakes and Is Hailed as Probable Winner of Derby.

Lexington, Ky., May 3.—There was scarcely room in the grandstand and on the walks about it and the pari-mutuel enclosure and the paddock for the accommodation of the people who attended the racing at the Kentucky Association course this afternoon. It was one of the largest crowds that was ever on these grounds on any occasion. The programs were sold out early in the afternoon and double the number could have been disposed of. Down in the pari-mutuel department no employee had an idle moment during the period that the machines were in operation. In every race all tickets were sold out on one or more horses and double numbers or extra tickets were necessary. The racing was of a high order over a lightning fast track and the weather could not have been more perfect. The crowd was a jolly, good-humored, enthusiastic gathering and they got such real enjoyment out of the contests that Francis R. Hitchcock of New York, remarked upon it to the officers in these words: "What a pleasure it is to go racing with you Kentuckians. Nowhere I have ever been have I found more enjoyment than right here on this Lexington track on such days as these. These people all seem to know one another and they are all happy and prosperous looking and above all, they know what racing is and they know how to display their appreciation of it."

Now, as to what the crowd saw this afternoon. It is no betting that they saw the winner of the Kentucky Derby and likewise the winner of the Breeders' Futurity, the names of the horses referred to being Foundation and Imperator. Foundation won the Blue Grass Stakes like the high-class race horse that owner Charles W. McKenna and trainer William McDaniel have all along contended he is, in opposition to the opinion of quite a number of horsemen that he is a horse strictly for the money. The only criticism that can be made against him is that at the start he broke toward the outside, his position being at the rail, and bumped the other three into one another, but which was never apparently fully extended at any stage of his speedy journey and won with considerable reserve by five lengths. His time is identical with his work on April 21, and is within one-fifth of a second of the track record, which was made by Governor Gray in the Blue Grass Stakes of 1911. Foundation worked out the extra eighth of a mile, making the Derby distance of one mile and a quarter in 2:04 1/2, which is one-fifth of a second faster than the record for the Kentucky Derby made by Meridian when he beat Governor Gray for the prize in 1911. The conclusion is that Foundation is the horse to beat in the race next Saturday and that the only horse now seeming to have a good chance to get home in front of him is Ten Point.

John J. Galvin is preparing to get a special train to Louisville on Derby Day morning to be called the "Foundation Special," to carry the supporters of the Lexington horse, Lord Marshall, who is all but thrown down in going around the first turn, when Governor Gray bumped him into the fence. For the last seven-eighths of a mile he ran without an iota of a chance to get to the leader because of this interference. Because of the rough action, the race was suspended by the judges for the remainder of the meeting. The interference may not have been intentional and may have been due to the nearness of Donnell, who was racing in front of the Weaver filly at the time.

Johnson N. Camden's Imperator, the first of the get of Peter Quince to start, won the fifth race, which was for two-year-olds, at four and one-half furlongs, so easily that many horsemen hastened to congratulate the owner and breeder of the colt, and express the opinion that he will be the winner of the Breeders' Futurity, which is to be run next Thursday. Trainer Jack Keene likewise was congratulated by scores of his friends and when they told him that they believed he had uncovered the Futurity winner he said, simply, "Well, I would not swap chances with any I know." Mr. Camden left immediately after the race for New York on a business mission and as he was departing he said, "Whether or not the colt wins the Futurity, I would not take $25,000 for him right now." The time of Imperator's race was 54 only two-fifths of a second slower than the track record made by Calisee; and he was only centering at the end of it. The Norman, which was hitherto regarded as the probable winner of the Futurity, seems to have had a bad disposition.

Bracktown Belle won the second race after a drive with Martha McKee. The showing of Maud B. L. in this race was disappointing to owner J. C. Milam. She broke out, but it may have been only fright at the colors.

The handicap was easy for the H. K. Knapp pair, Spirit and Yankee Notions. They ran one-two, with Morristown third. The first race left in doubt the Gill and the last to Bonanza, with Banorella second and Spindle third. E. T. Colton, the trainer of Automatic, tried to claim Banorella, but he had failed to file authorized agent's papers and his claim was not allowed.

Trainer Treve said this afternoon concerning Hawthorn: "The congestion in the gelding's head and throat was dissolved this morning and there was a considerable discharge from the nostrils. As soon as he secured relief his temperature became normal. I still think he will start in the Derby."

Jim Bascy was withdrawn from the third race on account of lameness. Fred W. Geary, secretary of the Windsor Jockey Club, came here today in the interest of the stakes for that track, which will close on Monday next.

John Walters, who is training the string of racers was among today's visitors. He reports all his horses, including the three-year-old Great Britain, in fine shape. The horses are at present at Louisville and will engage in the racing there.

The one-time great racer, Bourbon Beau, which injured himself last year at Louisville, has been given up as a future racing prospect and will be retired for stud duty at W. S. Payne's farm.

SOCIETY FOLK FLOCK TO PIMLICO.

Patapsco Steeplechase Serves as Great Attraction—Mutuels Well Patronized.

Baltimore, Md., May 3.—The running of the Patapsco Steeplechase attracted a big gathering of society folks to Pimlico this afternoon. It was the first opportunity that the hunting set had of witnessing some of the better class of jumpers perform in public and the infield was crowded with lovers of cross country racing during its running. Ticket of leave, rated as the best steeplechaser of last year, was among the eight starters. The race furnished a splendid contest with Himation first at the finish a nose in advance of Ticket of Leave. The pair fought it out through the last quarter and although Himation in the last few strides, Himation managed to last just long enough. Ticket of Leave made several blunders during the running and once went to his knees.

Amos Thorne's Kieburne showed a good performance in the Stafford purse, in which he overcame much interference and eventually won with plenty in reserve. One of the biggest upsets of the afternoon was furnished by Wooden Shoes, which was heavily backed to beat a band of ordinary two-year-olds in the second race. Monon was not alert at the post and when the barrier was sprung got away in a tangle. Wooden Shoes closed a big race, but could not get to Bulgar, which won by a couple of lengths after leading all the way. The Idol, although riding badly, lasted long enough to beat the fast closing favorite for second place. Fourteen maidens went to the post in the opening dash and the winner turned up in Slim Princess, which came from behind and finished with a rush. Burning Daylight, a supposed "good thing," from the Turf stable, raced indifferently.

A tremendous gathering was present, the attendance being up to the Saturday figures of last season. Speculation was keen and the mutuels handled something over $150,000 during the afternoon. James Milton left for his home in Dallas, Tex., tonight, to remain a week with his folks before returning north to take up his duties as starter on the Metropolitan tracks.

Congressman Dupree of Louisiana and the Russian Ambassador were among those who witnessed the racing this afternoon. The Russian Ambassador has reserved box 27 for the entire meeting.

A. K. Lounsbury, secretary of the Hamilton and Ottawa Jockey Clubs, arrived this morning and will remain until Monday in the interest of the stakes to be run at those meetings. W. P. Fraser of the Ontario Jockey Club is expected here tomorrow on the same mission. All of the stakes to be run on the Canadian circuit will close on Monday.

Richard T. Wilson, president of the Saratoga Association, made his first appearance this afternoon and thoroughly enjoyed the sport.

LEXINGTON MEETING HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL.

Lexington, Ky., May 3.—The rain of last Saturday gave the Kentucky Association a bad start for its spring meeting and the continued downpour of Sunday and Monday had a further retarding effect upon the sport and the income, but as soon as the sunshine came all of the claims that were made prior to the opening were fully substantiated. The racing has been as good as the best ever seen here and the attendance and receipts from all sources has been considerably in excess of the figures of record for any seven successive days in the history of the track. With the good card for Monday, the Camden Handicap to feature the program for Tuesday, the Breeders' Selling Stakes to be decided Wednesday, and the Breeders' Futurity, the richest two-year-old race of the year in America, down for decision on Thursday, the remaining four days of the meeting, with bright skies and a fast track, should be equal to the first seven, and if so the association can certainly boast that the claims of its officials for "the best meeting in many, many years" were not made without warrant.

The racing thus far has been uncommonly free from rough riding. The lecture that Judges Clay and Shelley gave Buxton in the hearing of the other jockeys on Wednesday last, and the fact that the race has been clean and there has been no talk of a scandalous nature.

The work of starter Harry Morrissey has been one of the distinct features of the meeting and it is eliciting approval from officials and horsemen, as well as from the general public. Morrissey seems to have the confidence of the riders and they are unquestionably helping him in his work. He has not fired one of them and he has been kind and yet positively to the boys and this is one of the traits that is winning the favor of the public and the people who make the racing for him. He was once a rider himself, and he has been an owner, a trainer and an assistant starter. He has been on the turf for a quarter of a century—from his childhood days—and he knows the racing people and how to get along with them.

The fact that the fates decreed that there should be no meeting between Helios and Hawthorn, the rival two-year-olds of 1912, here this spring, is deeply regretted by lovers of racing, and it is still more deeply regretted that both of the illustrious geldings at the present writing are counted as out of the Kentucky Derby a week hence. Helios will not run in it unless he shows marked improvement during the coming week. There is much sympathy for Chas. F. Buschmeyer, the owner of Hawthorn and some superstitiously inclined people declare that it is a hoodoo to have an offer of a large sum for a good race horse. When Elizabeth Kline looked for a certainty for the Oaks at Memphis, Mr. Buschmeyer had an offer of $10,000 for her and she broke an ankle a day or two before the race. He refused an offer of $15,000 made by Garet D. Wilson, the present secretary of the Kentucky Association, for the Harbinger and that colt never won a race afterwards. The refusal of an offer of $30,000 made by easterners for Hawthorn of course had nothing to do with the sickness of the Hastings gelding, but it would be hard to convince the superstitious horseman that it did not.

John L. Madden says that Hazing, Ivory Bells, Miss Granite, Dorothy Gray, Catherine Carson and Dickie, the dams of the two-year-olds by Uncle that have set to wagging the tongues of the race-goers everywhere, are now at Hamburg Place and that Old Rosebud, Little Nephew, Uncle Jimmie, Aunt Mamie, Birdie Williams and Edith W. were not bred by Mr. Charles Kohler, the owner of Uncle, as has been stated in some of the newspapers in the east. Madden says he shipped sixteen mares from Hamburg Place to the Kentucky Fair in New Jersey, where they were mated with Uncle. They were shipped back to Kentucky and foaled at Hamburg Place. He got nine foals from the sixteen mares.

Four of the pari-mutuel machines in use here are Cincinnati made and are of a new pattern as regards the mechanism. They are positive in their action and it is impossible to register more than one ticket at a time with them. They will not click more than once for one pull of the lever. They were designed for General Manager John Hachmeister of the Douglas Park and Latonia Jockey Clubs and are having their tryout here. The order of Mr. Hachmeister is for thirty of the machines and they are now being rushed to completion that they may be used at Douglas Park.

GETTING READY AT WINDSOR.

Preparations Already in Progress for Summer Meeting—Stakes to Close Tomorrow.

Detroit, Mich., May 3.—Windsor Jockey Club patrons will look upon a new and greatly improved racing plant when the first summer meeting opens at the trans-river track July 16, to continue until July 23, for the seven days of racing that is allowed by Canadian law.

Extensive arrangements have been made by the association to right royally welcome the thoroughbred back to this vicinity and a program of attractive stakes has been arranged, each having a higher value than those offered in past years. Entries for the following stakes, which close the coming Monday, are now being received:

- Frontier Handicap, $3,500 added, three-year-olds and upwards; 1-1-8 miles.
- Commodore, $1,500 added, three-year-olds and upwards; 1 mile.
- Ponchartrain Stakes, $1,500 added, three-year-olds and upwards; 3-4 mile.
- Edenwald Stakes, $1,500 added, two-year-olds; 5-8 mile.
- Detroit Stakes, $1,500 added, two-year-olds; 5-1-2 furlongs.

The work of putting the race track proper in condition has already commenced and the few Windsor owners who are preparing for a summer campaign with their racing horses are already at work under conditions, considering the time of the year, to work their horses.

George M. Hendrie, president and treasurer of the Windsor Jockey Club, has made arrangements to ship his string of runners, which will campaign on the Canadian circuit and on the Kentucky tracks this year, to Windsor for their preliminary training for a strenuous season.

In addition to the older horses of this stable, all of which wintered well in Tennessee, there are seven two-year-olds of which great things are expected this year. The list follows:

- Commodore, ch. c. by The Commodore—Nevada.
- Decathelon, ch. c. by Marathon—Queen Isabella.
- King Cotton, br. c. by Filigrane—Lady English.
- Roumanian, ch. c. by Planudes—Carmen Silva.
- Strathairn, ch. c. by Planudes—Strathairn.
- Tartar, br. c. by The Scribble—Mollybush.
- Welshman, ch. c. by Bryn Mawr.

The older horses of the string include Great Britain, Rifle Brigade, Tecumseh, Loch Lomond, Lord Lucan and Toronto Writ.

Visitors to the track will be surprised by the number of improvements made. New fences have been erected around the entire course, to replace the sagging ones which were leveled by the hurricane which struck this city on Good Friday. The best of the infield, acknowledged to be the best steeplechase course in Canada, will make a vista which cannot fail to attract and please race-goers, and forms a background in keeping with the high order of the sport which has made Windsor popular with turfmen the country over.

Additional seating room has been arranged for in the grandstand and the clubhouse, stands and betting shed have all been treated to coats of paint, the club colors of green and white prevailing.

The roofs of the stables inside the course have been repaired and additional stabling room has been arranged outside the big enclosure to take care of all the strings of the visiting horsemen.

Special arrangements have been made between the officers of the association and the street railway company of this city, so that the cars will be used to convey patrons to the course, and the tracks have been improved, new ones being laid to eliminate the long waits and discomfort passengers have often experienced in the past.

Motorists leaving the ferry boats will no longer be forced to find devious ways to get to the track, as they will now be enabled to proceed directly by way of the new bridge, which will be completed in a few days. LOOKING FORWARD TO LATONIA DERBY.

Cincinnati, O., May 3.—With $6,000 added, the Latonia Derby, which is set to be run on Saturday, June 14, will be the richest Derby of the season in America, and its value will exceed that of any three-year-old race on the American turf this year. The Ray-Bay, which is like its great English namesake, the Epsom Derby, will be at the full Derby route, one and one-half miles, and there are several three-year-olds of high class which are eligible to go in the race that are not engaged in the Kentucky Derby nor in the Kentucky Handicap, whereas all the good colts and fillies engaged in these two big Louisville events are also entered for the Latonia race. Two of these are Great Britain, owned by the Canadian turfman G. M. Hendrie, and Solar Star, owned by Webb & Ward, Hawthorn, Judge Wright and His Majesty are other Latonia Derby eligibles that, while entered in the Kentucky Derby, will not start in that event next Saturday. With these additions to such three-year-old colts and geldings as Ten Point, Yankee Notions, Leochares, and Foundation, and such good fillies as Floral Park, Gowell, Christmas Star and The Widow Moon, the field for the Latonia Derby this season will be of higher quality than has ever started in the big stake, which has enjoyed an unbroken history since racing was inaugurated at the Latonia course in 1887. While the event was, until 1887, known as the Hindoo Stakes, it has always been run over the full Derby course of a mile and a half.

The event this season will come a little later than in 1912, which is all the better, as it will give all candidates the chance to thoroughly prepare for such a contest and those that have been raced at Churchill Downs and Douglas Park will be keyed up to the highest pitch of racing condition.

The Latonia Derby last season was won by the great Free Lance, with The Manager, afterwards the Canadian Derby winner, second, and Worth, the Kentucky Derby winner, third. The event last season was worth $4,250 net to the winner. The $6,000 added by the Latonia Racing Association this season will make it much more valuable than it was in 1912.

HEARTS OF OAK WORKS WELL.

Toronto, Ont., May 3.—The King's Plate favorite, Hearts of Oak, gave a taste of his quality Thursday in a five-furlongs work with his stable companion, Omdramida. He put in half a mile in :49, and the five furlongs in 1:02, beating the filly handsly. Easing up, he finished in 1:13.

Another smart work by a Plater was six furlongs by Mausolus in 1:17, the fastest of the season at that distance. The first half was done in :49, and the second half in 1:08. He was bred by Mrs. L. A. Livingston, and is owned by H. H. Roberts of Simcoe. He is trained by Ed. Gleason.

Three-year-old Resturium went five furlongs in 1:04.

Jockey W. Knapp has reported at Woodbine to ride for the Robert Davies stable.

Live Wire is now doing stud duty and is located at Norway.

George Atkinson of North Toronto, has turned Tabler, b. g. by Pershere—Mrs. Nelson, a King's Plate, over to Thomas Meagher to be trained.

Plate Glass worked a half mile in :48, and five-eighths in 1:02, a day of two ago. Calvary, with Flower Girl and Moving Picture, went a half mile in :51.

Trainer Eddie Whyte has sent three of the Heedie two-year-olds back to the farm near Hamilton: Henham, ch. g. by David Garrick—Flicker, Salt Fleet, ch. g. by Martins—Firewater, and Stoner Creek, b. g. by David Garrick—Springwells. There are all good young colts and will be reserved for the King's Plate next year.

The horses of Joseph E. Seagram will be shipped to Woodbine from Waterloo on Monday.

Mrs. E. E. Steele's First Aid will be trained by Eddie Gleason.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The employees of the pari-mutuel department at Pimlico number 107.

The Russian Ambassador and Madam Bakmatreff are among the most enthusiastic of the society set that patronize the Pimlico races.

Junco, which Harry Rifes sold for $5,000 and which is now in Sales Vatch's stable at Pimlico, is a little under the weather and may not be seen in action during the Pimlico meeting.

Among those who attended the funeral of the late John S. McDonald at New York Thursday were James Butler, J. C. Follenberg, Thomas J. Healey, P. E. Smith, J. E. Rogers, John A. Dray, James B. Brady, Philip J. Dwyer, John Cavanagh and Matt J. Winn.

Never in the history of Pimlico racing have so many horses of good quality been available for filling the card races. The staff capacity of the track, within a reasonable radius has been completely exhausted and accommodations have necessarily been denied many applicants.

R. T. Wilson's Flying Yankee is showing promising form in his trials over the jumps and it is predicted that he will become a crack steeplechaser. He was a useful racer on the flat last season and is of better caliber than the horses that ordinarily are developed for jumping.

Among the events recorded in his book, "Sixty Years on the Turf," the late George Bodeman did not include one story of himself which is said to be quite true. He had a horse in a small race at Nottingham and backed it all over England where there was a shilling to be had at any price, there being in those days plenty of list betting. He got every thing else that was likely to run out of the way, but as a walk-over would have rendered void the bets a worthless animal belonging to somebody else was sent to the post to make a race. Mr. Bodeman's horse overpowered his jockey and jumped the rails. He refused to jump back again and the other horse had to go on and win. Mr. Bodeman died a poor man.—Toronto Globe.

JOHN LOUIS WINS A STAKE.

Spokane, Wash., May 3.—For the twelfth time in the thirteen days of racing at Alan the weather was unpropitious today, being the most disagreeable one of the meeting, but despite this handicap one of the biggest crowds of list betting was seen at the track. The Apple Way Selling stakes, one mile, guaranteed value $1,000, was the feature of the afternoon's sport. This event takes its name from the fact that Apple Way, a bona fide racing horse, was sold to the Apple Way Farm by Jockey Murphy.

Spokane to Coeur d'Alene, passing through mile after mile of the apple producing section and pronounced the finest roadway in the northwest. The distance is thirty-two miles. The field of nine that faced starter Tribes was made up of the best milers at the track. Trainer H. McDaniel sent two to the post, Lowner, owned by George C. Bennett, of Memphis, Tenn., and Sea Cliff, owned by himself. Lowner was the favorite, but he was not to be. Pauley allowing his mount to remain too far out of the early running. She finished like a whirlwind, but it was too late. John Louis, the winner, was given a powerful ride by Jockey Murphy. He is without a doubt the best rider here. Sea Cliff met with bad luck, being shut off in the home stretch.

John Louis reduced the half mile track record of 47, by one-fifth of a second. He won in the easiest manner possible.

Jockey Matthews was crowded into the fence by Burlingame on Velle Forty. His foot was badly bruised, compelling him to cancel his engagements for the rest of the day.
